The 21-year-old Italian DJ & Producer is known for her hard-hitting house music and wildly electric stage presence. Her powerful energy reflects in everything she does and impresses every time. As of late, she has taken a quick side step from her normal sound and has been dabbling in an experimental pop crossover. She caught her fans off guard, releasing a new single called 'One Of A Kind'. The track is everything you want in a pop song, but it's even better because it's full of new era electronic dance music contaminations.
